The KiWi+ is our most popular panoramic tripod head. It's the perfect companion to any of the affordable stitching applications that we offer, providing a complete solution for anyone interested in adding Photographic VR panoramas to their websites and multimedia applications.

The KiWi+ consists of two intersecting black anodized aluminum struts that adjust and lock to accommodate a wide range of cameras. When unlocked, they disassemble into two flat pieces that store easily in your camera bag. Two measurement scales are provided along both axes, so it's easy to set and record the dimensions for any camera and lens combination.

While the KiWi-L provides the basics, the KiWi+ adds a click-stop mechanism which uses easily replaceable detent discs (see picture below). These discs are available in a number of positions (2 through 22). The KiWi+ ships with one disc of your choice and extra discs are available separately or as a set. An optional QuickTilt leveler rounds out the line-up.

Mounting your camera is easy. Simply choose the appropriate mounting slot on the upright bracket and use the captive clamping knob to adjust and secure the camera.

The KiWi+ attaches to any standard tripod and camera equipped with a standard 1/4-20 mounting thread.
